

DR. PARKHURST HAS NO FAITH.

The Divine Says Investigation Commission Will Be Held in Leash by Platt.

PURPOSE PURELY POLITICS.

Frank Moss Officially "Mentioned" as the Probable Head Inquisitor of New Tribunal.

MAZET WOULD PROBE PLATT, TOO.

Issues a "Challenge" to Any Person with Charges Against the Senator, to Present Them to His Committee.

DR. PARKHURST HAS NO FAITH.

I have absolutely no faith in this investigation.

The committee was appointed for reasons best known to Platt.

If he chose he could have prevented this situation—and it is unqualifiedly and unmitigatedly bad. The committee is an investigation of abuses for which the Platt machine is itself responsible; to clear up some of the litter of its own making. The investigation is a Republican device, conceived for partisan purposes.

We had to hold the Lexow Committee's nose to the grindstone, and it was called off before it had finished.

Charles T. Saxton prevented it from being called off before it had accomplished anything.

An investigation of city affairs should not emanate from the Platt machine.

The Mazet commission will originate this morning at Albany.

It has not yet announced its selection of a lawyer to act as chief inquisitor.

Governor Roosevelt is reported to have declined to turn over to the investigators the facts at his command concerning alleged police corruption.

Dr. Parkhurst will take no part in the inquiry, as he does not believe its purpose is what it pretends.

News comes from Albany that the Republican machine still hopes following Senators will return to the fold and make a revival of the Astoria gas grab practicable, in which case the Mazet committee, it is believed, would be called off.

Dr. Parkhurst's Society for the Prevention of Crime will decide this afternoon whether it will vote any confidence in the Platt investigation of city affairs by the Mazet Committee. Its probable action may be guessed from the clergyman's views, given above.

If any hope, founded on the official mention of Frank Moss, the Parkhurst society's lawyer, as the man who may be counsel for the committee, existed in Mr. Platt's mind that Dr. Parkhurst would come into camp and make war medicine for the Republican machine and the firm of Tracy, Boardman & Platt, Dr. Parkhurst disavowed it yesterday. He told a Journal man that he was too old a tiger-hunter to be led astray by a pack of jackals.

"If Mr. Moss is appointed will your society turn over to the committee the evidence concerning the Police Department which it has been collecting?" the reporter asked.

"That is a matter for the society and not for myself to decide," answered Dr. Parkhurst, cautiously. "All statements made by the society with the present investigation are without any authority from the society itself. We have not been requested to furnish any information, and we have no intention of doing so. I have no faith in the investigation. The committee was appointed, I think, not for the sake of purifying the Police Department, but for reasons best known to the Republican machine and to Platt."

But if Frank Moss, one of the reform and memoranda of his own concerning the police administration, is selected as counsel, would it change your opinion of the character of the investigation for sluttishness?"

"As One Without Hope." "If Mr. Moss should be counsel for the committee, and the committee could be forced to keep at work, it would have to accomplish something more than I think is in the machine plans."

"But I must keep harping on one string. The situation in this city is unqualifiedly and unmitigatedly bad. But the influences behind this investigation will have no effect upon the principle of honesty in public life. It is not to the interest of either that the people shall rule."

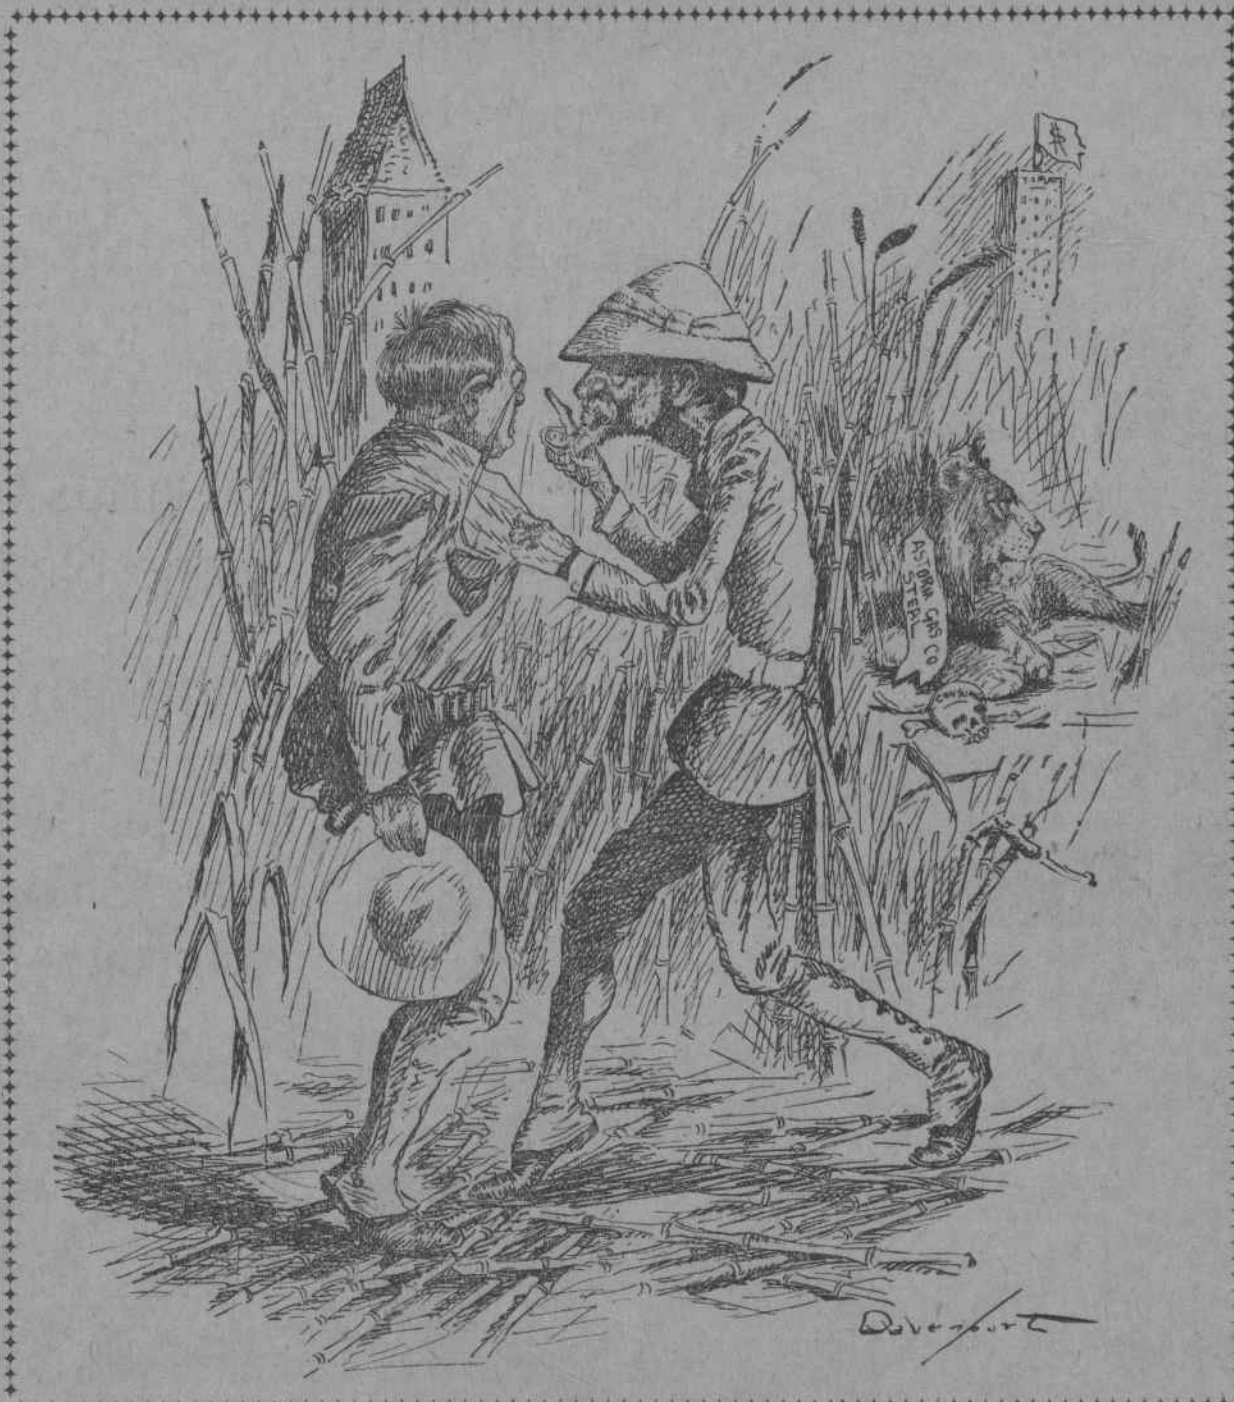

"If Mr. Platt had given the word a year and a half ago, he would have had Mayor a man like Law. Instead, he chose to run his man General Tracy. But one loss will always fly to the aid of another when the principle of honesty is in peril. It is not to the interest of either that the people shall rule."

The Platt machine is, therefore, investigating abuses for which it is itself responsible. It is coming here to try and clear up a part of the litter which it helped make. How can I have, or the people have, any faith in such an investigation? I cannot forget the fight we made in 1897 to 1898. We had to fight to get Dr. Parkhurst to conduct the Lexow investigation. We had to knock out Sutherland, the machine's counsel, a man I can only suppose who knew no more about Albany than a New York man than he did about Kamachka. Clarence Lexow, a man and his committee came down here to take the whole job in five weekly sessions. That investigation had no real sincerity, no purpose, was introduced only to rub the skin of things. What was wanted was a little political capital. All Clarence Lexow, I mean, was sent after was a little internal generating fraud at the expense of the committee had to be held to the grindstone to keep them at it all through the investigation."

Making Lexow Lexow.

"I still have a letter from a member of that committee—an honest man, a former Lieutenant-Governor, yes it was Saxton—who saved the day for us at a critical time and prevented that committee from being called off. I wish I could give it to you for publication. As it was, the Lexow Committee was called off before it was through with its work. I can only suppose that this committee of Robert Mazet will be called off. If they do really investigate things they will have a job."

"I remember at a meeting with the Lexow Committee at the Hotel Metropole, Clarence said with great politeness to

DON'T INVESTIGATE THE LION, TEDDY. WE'RE HUNTING TIGERS NOW.

Charles Stewart Smith, who was there for the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Smith, will you please state your case to us."

Smith replied: "I have no case, sir. Clarence asked me the same question, and I made the same answer. We told him that it was for them to make their own case. They had no idea before of making out their own case. But that's what an investigating committee, if it is to accomplish anything, must do."

"Everybody will see the incongruity of this movement. An investigation should not emanate from the machine, but from a popular uprising, as it did in 1893. This one will help greatly, in my opinion, to contribute to the success of the Tammany ticket at the next election."

"It is a Republican device, conceived only for partisan purposes by Platt."

Mr. Moss is Tentative.

Frank Moss, when the announcement was made, apparently on the authority of Senator Platt, that he would be engaged to conduct the committee's inquiry, refused to accept it. "Everything is in the air," he said. "I am not going to accept the task until I am not going to Albany."

Moss replied to a question about a rumor that he had been summoned to the State capital.

"It is likely that the evidence in possession of the Parkhurst Society will be placed in the hands of the Assembly Committee," he was asked.

"That depends upon the committee itself," replied Mr. Moss.

"I am not going to accept the task until I am not going to Albany."

"I am not going to accept the task until I am not going to Albany."

ment of Moss, nor, in fact, anything about the Mazet committee's intentions.

Not Down to Work Yet.

The committee was expected to get through the work of organization and preliminary planning, at a meeting to be held in Albany last night. Mr. Mazet did not reach the capital in time to get his colleagues together, however. He expressed a purpose to get down to New York and begin business by the latter end of this week. It is expected that one of the committee's first acts will be to select a chief inquisitor.

This was the arrangement when the Lexow committee was in town. Frank Moss, if he is to conduct the Mazet inquiry, is a man likely to do it with consummate zeal. He made several speeches last night in the rabid style of the "Reform" campaign, denouncing wholesale and widespread corruption in the Police Department, which he and Mr. Roosevelt had denounced in the past.

He required weekly reports from the captains in the places suspected to be the seat of corruption in the old city, and these he has preserved. During the Roosevelt campaign he was asked, if as counsel for the Parkhurst society, he proposed to Quigg to be absolute dictator of the present police administration and to replace the time was "not yet ripe."

After Roosevelt's election he delivered a long speech in the Assembly, declaring that the campaign against Tammany must begin at once along the well-known lines of the Parkhurst Committee of Seventy. It was understood that he was invited by Colonel Roosevelt to deliver this speech.

QUIGG WILL MANAGE THE SHOW FOR PLATT.

Committee Will Use Moss, but Wants a Chief Inquisitor Who Will Be Pliable.

Albany, N. Y., April 3.—The Mazet investigating committee will meet here at 10:30 o'clock to-morrow morning and organize. Lemuel E. Quigg arrived to-night armed with a complete programme, and with orders to Mazet not to depart therefrom. Quigg is to be absolute dictator of the committee when Platt is away. He will determine the hours for it to sit, the members to be called, the questions to be asked of the witnesses, and most important of all, when the committee shall be called off. Mazet is only to have the inquiry.

An order has been given to the State printer to print at once 2,000 blank subpoenas. A number of the committee was hunting around to find out what methods must be adopted to punish recalcitrant witnesses for contempt by absence. Other ways in which the committee preparations indicate that the committee proposes to sit throughout the year, its first hearing will probably occur on Friday.

It was not definitely decided at 5 o'clock this afternoon who would act as counsel to the committee. The selection of Frank Moss as one of the lawyers was practically settled. Other lawyers of strong Republican tendencies were also being considered for chief counsel. One of these was Hugo Wheeler of Brooklyn. He is strong as a cross examiner.

Lawyer Wanted Not Boss.

This is the combination sought. A member of the committee to-day said: "We don't want a lawyer who would insist on pursuing paths independent of the advice and orders of the committee. What we want is a man who will travel as far in one direction as he can and then walk another way. The committee wants to boss the investigation."

had anyway. Perhaps somebody will take this matter seriously. If this happens it will be a welcome change from the grins and chuckles that greet every reference to the Mazet Committee.

Would You It Off New?

There is additional news that Platt is sending his cars to catch the first train of supplicants from those Senators who refuse to cleave to him and help along his schemes. It was learned to-night that while the resolution of investigation was being jammed through the Assembly, Chairman R. B. Odell, of the Republican State Committee, was waiting near by with a new Astoria grab bill in his pocket. He was ready to introduce it at the first sign from those Republican Senators who would support the bill. Mr. Odell had undergone a change of heart. If this sign had been made the resolution would have been killed.

It is said that pressure is being used to induce Governor Roosevelt to turn over to the Republican machine the complaining letters he has received from friendly policemen in New York. He refused to do so and has made it clear that the committee will have to pursue its way without his help.
